

The Lean Canvas

Designed for:
ReServe_AI

Designed by:
Aakriti Singh , Kashish Tilwani, Vinay Kumar

Date:
18 July 2026

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Problem <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Significant volumes of surplus food generated by restaurants, caterers, hotels, and event organizers go unutilized daily.</li> <li>Delayed information flow to NGOs results in spoilage before redistribution can occur.</li> <li>Volunteers lack visibility into nearby pickup and delivery opportunities in real time.</li> <li>Donors have limited transparency into logistics needs and the tangible impact of their contributions.</li> </ul> | Solution <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Surplus Detection : Detects excess food</li> <li>Smart Matching : Matches food to NGOs</li> <li>Volunteer Dispatch : Coordinates pickup &amp; delivery</li> <li>Donor Agent : Manages funding &amp; engagement</li> <li>Verification : Confirms safety &amp; delivery</li> <li>Forecast Agent : Predicts surplus in advance</li> <li>Vision AI : Photo-based food quality check</li> <li>Swarm Dispatch : Optimizes multi-volunteer routes</li> <li>Trust Agent – Reliability &amp; reputation scoring</li> <li>Impact Ledger – Tracks verified impact</li> <li>CSR Reporting – Generates ESG reports</li> <li>Analytics Dashboard – Real-time insights &amp; metrics</li> </ul> | Unique Value Prop. Use AI agents to rescue surplus food in real time, connecting restaurants, NGOs, volunteers and donors to feed communities faster and reduce food waste. | Unfair Advantage <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>AI-powered multi-agent automation</li> <li>Predictive surplus forecasting</li> <li>Smart volunteer route optimization</li> <li>AI food quality verification</li> <li>Transparent impact &amp; CSR reporting</li> <li>Trust &amp; reputation scoring</li> </ul>                          | Customer Segments Primary: Restaurants, hotels, caterers, event organizers, and NGOs/food banks. Secondary: Volunteers, corporate CSR teams, individual donors, municipal authorities, and sustainability-focused organizations.                    |
| Existing Alternatives Feeding India by ZomatoRobin Hood ArmyNo Food WasteFood Rescue USToo Good To Go                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Key Metrics <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Meals rescued</li> <li>Food waste diverted (kg)</li> <li>Average response time</li> <li>Delivery success rate</li> <li>Volunteer participation rate</li> <li>Active restaurants and NGOs onboarded</li> <li>CO<sub>2</sub> emissions avoided</li> <li>Total donor contribution value</li> </ul>                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | High-Level Concept Uber for Surplus Food Rescue powered by AI Agents                                                                                                        | Channels <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Mobile application</li> <li>WhatsApp Business integration</li> <li>Restaurant POS/API integration</li> <li>NGO partner portal</li> <li>Corporate CSR dashboard</li> <li>Social media and NGO partnerships</li> <li>Municipal government partnerships</li> </ul>                                 | Early Adopters <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Restaurant chains</li> <li>Hotels &amp; Caterers</li> <li>Event Organizers</li> <li>NGOs &amp; Food Banks</li> <li>Corporate Cafeterias</li> <li>College Canteens</li> <li>CSR Teams</li> <li>Municipal Bodies</li> </ul> |
| Cost Structure <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Cloud infrastructure</li> <li>AI model training and maintenance</li> <li>Maps and routing API costs</li> <li>App and dashboard development</li> <li>Notification services (SMS/WhatsApp)</li> <li>Customer support operations</li> <li>Marketing and NGO onboarding</li> </ul>                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                           | Revenue Streams <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Corporate CSR subscriptions</li> <li>Premium analytics dashboard access</li> <li>Restaurant enterprise subscriptions</li> <li>NGO grants</li> <li>Government sustainability program funding</li> <li>Logistics service fees</li> <li>API licensing for food recovery partners</li> </ul> |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |